[EV-05] Super Introductory JpGU Super Lesson (new project) Lecturer : Koichi Toyoshima (Center for Environmental Remote Sensing, Chiba University)

This is an event to support not only young students but also mid-career and seniors who want to study data and analysis methods that they have never touched before. This time, we plan to prepare into two classes: one for searching and analyzing satellite image data that can be used for free, and the other for exercises using Python.
