

Space and Planetary Sciences Luncheon

*Yasushi Nakamoto ¹

1. Institute of Science Tokyo

A luncheon will be held for activity updates and interdisciplinary networking within the Space and Planetary Sciences Section.

This event will take place in the same venue immediately following the L-01 Space and Planetary Sciences Section Lecture.

If you would like to receive a boxed lunch, please register in advance using the application form below by the deadline.

However, you are also welcome to attend without prior registration. (We will prepare a limited number of extra lunches.)

We plan to offer a variety of lunch options, including Japanese-style, Chinese-style, and sandwiches.

Please note that we are unable to accommodate requests for vegetarian or halal meals. Thank you for your understanding.
